Hazard: The computer screen may freeze which may pose a risk of serious injury to divers underwater who fail to comply with the instruction to have back-up equipment with them

Recalled Products: The recalled units are recent models of the UWATEC Galileo Luna and Sol dive computers sold beginning May 7, 2015. The dive computers being recalled bear the following serial numbers:

- Galileo LUNA: from 150422 0058 001 to 150903 0338 005
- Galileo SOL: from 150423 0202 001 to 150921 0001 005

The serial number is stamped on the back of the computer and printed on labels affixed to the product packaging

Remedy: Consumers should immediately stop using these affected dive computers and return them to an authorized SCUBAPRO dealer or to SCUBAPRO directly for a free replacement unit.
