

Quality Alert AT.01.06.0018

To all Atomic Aquatics customers,

Atomic Aquatics has learned of three (3) reported incidences of low-pressure hoses that have become disconnected at the second stage swivel while in use. Impacted products include hoses produced in July of 2017 as well as the range of regulators produced between August 2017 through April 2018. Failure of the hose connection can result in a loss of air and poses a significant drowning hazard to divers.

It is of the utmost importance that if you have a low-pressure swivel hose model listed below with the date stamp D0717, or a second stage regulator purchased after August 1, 2017 with a low-pressure swivel hose bearing the date stamp D0717, that the hose be quarantined and replaced as soon as possible. See image below for example of date stamp.
